LATE DISPATCHES INDICATE THAT ITALY MAY NOT MAKE A FORMAL DECLARA-TION BUT MAY STRIKE AT ONCE—EN-TRANCE OF ITALY INTO THE WAR WILL FORCE GERMANY AND AUSTRIA TO WITHDRAW IMMENSE FORCES OF SOL-DIERS FROM THE RUSSIAN FRONTIER

Associated Press.

LONDON, May 20.—Latest advices from Rome make no reference of an official declaration of war by Italy, although the Italian parliament has conferred full power on the government to make all decisions. This is taken to mean that Italy is about ready to strike the first blow if she has not already done so. Some news dispatches are greatly delayed.

A formal declaration of war or perhaps action without such formal notice is momentarily expected, as naval and military preparations are already made and it is believed the Italian pavy is in the Adriatic anticipating the parliamentary vote which caused the abandonment of all plans to remain

German and Austrian ambassadors are still in Rome tonight according to Berlin dispatches, but only to arrange for the safety of their nationals remaining in the country. It is expected Italy's entrance into the war will force Austria and Germany the first thing to withdraw troops from the Russian frontier where they are fighting desperately.

ROME, May 20.-This day will be a historic one of the new Italy. The whole capital is in a state of expectation. Only in the period of the wars of independence can a parallel LEAGUE OF ALL NATIONS WILL VISIT MINING CAMPS be found. The names of those who contributed to the unification of the country have been on the lips of the people and the wish has been expressed by all to emulate them.

My Associated trees and the state of the sta quently cheered by the crowds.

When the sitting of the Chamber of Deputies began there were present 482 deputies of 500, the absentees being Medium to reference on leternational first appearance betwee the commits litery uniforms.

All tribunes were overflowing. In that foreign diplomats a substance position but sugar of more in connection with ic body were seated American Ambassador Page and his staff, Former Mayor of New York, George B. McClelland, occupied a seat in the President's tribune.

No representatives of Germany, Austria or Turkey were seen in the tribune. The first ambassador to arrive was Mr. the same the said the administration of parties rested upon the mate Page and the French, British and Russian ambassadors and all were greeted with applause which was shared by the Belgian, Greek and Roumanian ministers.

Premier Salandra's address was interrupted frequently by applause from all sides and the climax was reached when he spoke of the army and navy. At the end of the Premier's speech there were "vivas" for the king, Italy and war. Only 34 intransient Socialists refused to join the cheers and they were hooted and hissed.

Salandra said: "since Italy's recognition as a State she has reserved for herself in the world of nations a place as an actor of moderation, concern and peace, and has not wavered to face painful sacrifices. She has looked on, with sorrow, at methodical attempts to suppress the characteristic ultimatum that Austria-Hungary addressed last July to Servia and annulled at one blow the effects of our long sustained peace by violating the pact which bound us to that state without even giving us notification and also it sought to disturb to our detriment a delicate system of territorial possessions and spheres of influence which had been set up in the Balkan Peninsula. The whole spirit of the treaty was wronged.

The central quarters of Rome tonight are filled with enthusiastic crowds cheering the King and the Premier. Similar demonstrations are reported in other cities of Italy.

Switzerland notified Italy today that she will maintain a strict neutrality no matter what happens.
